

A New Theme Every Month
A New Story Every Sunday by Noon

Teachers! What would we do without them? They work so hard and spend so much time helping kids on a daily basis—not knowing when something they do or say strikes a chord and will be that golden nugget of information to a child; something that will open up their world, finally make them understand fractions, or get them to keep trying and take pride in a job well done. This list contains just some of the wonderful books written about teachers—without whom we wouldn't be reading these books and authors wouldn't be writing them!
